

PROTECT YOUR ROOFING INVESTMENT

through annual roof maintenance

Protecting your roofing investment is something we hope you consider. We recommend blowing off your roof of dust, dirt and loose debris and cleaning out the gutters at least 1-2 times per year depending on the environment around your home.

Airborne debris is the biggest contributor to moss growth especially in shaded areas where your roof remains moist for longer periods of time. Depending on the amount of trees surrounding your house, maintenance to avoid moss from growing can protect and extend the life of your roof.
